FORT WAYNE.

The city of Fort Wayne is pleasantly situated at the head of the Maumee river, and on the St. Joseph, at its confluence with the St. Mary's river, the county seat of Allen county, with a population of 35,000, that is being rapidly augmented every day by the introduction of some new manufacturing enterprise, or the enlargement of some of the many institutions that are already established and enjoying a prosperous business, making Fort Wayne rank as the second city in the State in point of manufacture and commerce. A moment's investigation of the many industries that furnish employment to thousands of hands, will convince the most casual observer that FORT WAYNE has indeed been fortunate in securing, what western towns stand so badly in need of—RAILROADS and FACTORIES, among the latter the most prominent are: THE BASS FOUNDRY & MACHINE WORKS, THE PETERS' BOX AND LUMBER CO., THE CENTLIVRE BREWERY, FLEMING MANUFACTURING CO., HOFFMAN BROS., S. PENNOCK, SONS & CO., THE FORT WAYNE JENNEY ELECTRIC LIGHT CO., C. S. OLDS & CO., and many others.

THE BASS FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS was established in 1853, incorporated twenty years later, turns out more car wheels than any other concern in the United States, furnishing employment to a regiment of men, and in addition they do an extensive business in the manufacture of engine boilers, steam engines, railroad castings, mill and heavy machinery of every description.

THE PETERS' BOX AND LUMBER COMPANY have only been in business a few years, having commenced in 1870, on a small scale, and to-day, under the direction of Mr. Charles Pape, who is President and General Manager, it has grown to be one of the solid institutions of the city, and the many articles of their manufacture including tobacco pails, refrigerators, packing boxes, sash, doors and blinds, chair stock and furniture, can be found in every principal city in the Union.

Seven brewing establishments have been started since '62, when the Centlivre Brewery was put into operation, on north Spring Run Avenue, and it stands to-day without a rival. Owing to the growing popularity of the "French Brewery" beverages, the facilities of his already large establishment have been taxed to their utmost capacity, Mr. Centlivre proposes to make additional improvement that will double the capacity and enable him to produce twenty-five to thirty thousand barrels per year.

THE OLDS WAGON WORKS are located here and are among the largest manufacturers of wagons and wagon wheels in the United States. When running full force they employ from eight hundred to a thousand men.

S. PENNOCK SONS & Co., the well known manufacturers of the PENNOCK ROAD MACHINE, of Kennett Square, Penn., have established a western branch at 358 Calhoun street. They report a large and satisfactory increase in their business. Space forbids further enumeration, and we refer our readers to "Incorporated Institutions" on page 55.

Among the many important improvements to take place this season, is the completion of the Grand Opera House, and erection of a new hotel. The old Mayer House will be razed to the ground and a new and stately edifice, embracing all the modern improvements and conveniences, will be erected, that will cost a round hundred thousand dollars, furnishing accommodation for 125 guests. Mr. George J. E. Mayer will do justice to the work in hand, and will sustain his reputation as a popular and successful caterer to the public.

The railroad transportation facilities of Fort Wayne are second to none in the State, being traversed by six roads. Situated on the main line of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific R'y, that has nearly ten thousand miles of railroad under control, gives it an unbroken connection with all western roads. The Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago are next in importance, and have located extensive repair shops here and are now erecting buildings preparatory to permanently placing their large car and machine shops at this point. The Grand Rapids & Indiana with leased lines, popularly known as the "Fishing Line," is the most important north and south railroad in the State. The Ft. Wayne, Cincinnati & Louisville road makes this the northern terminus and have erected repair shops and general offices. The Lake Shore & Michigan Southern are now operating the old Fort Wayne & Saginaw, making this the southern terminus. The New York, Chicago & St. Louis is the latest addition, and their elegant buildings for the accommodation of passenger and freight traffic are located within two squares of the court house.

Fort Wayne possesses the most excellent educational facilities in all branches. A large number of beautiful churches are scattered throughout the city, representing all the popular ecclesiastical denominations.

The press is brought into prominence by five dailies: Gazette, Sentinel, Journal, Staats Zeitung, and News, and eight weekly papers: Journal, Gazette, Sentinel, News, Staats Zeitung, Mail, and Indiana Hoosier.

As a city, Fort Wayne is well supplied with clean, broad streets, and the business houses and residences are compactly constructed in the latest styles of modern architecture. Has gas, electric lights, telephone exchange, water works, well-organized fire departments, several miles of street railway, good county buildings, twenty hotels, two private and three National Banks, W. U. Telegraph, Adams, American, U. S., and Pacific Express offices. P. W. Keil, P. M.

THE CELEBRATED "A. P. DICKEY"

FARM and WAREHOUSE FANNING MILLS AND SEPARATORS.

Manufactured
—BY— DICKEY & PEASE, RACINE, WIS.

Received Highest Award, Diploma and Medal, at the Centennial in 1876. At Paris, 1878. at Melbourne, Australia, in 1880, and all State Fairs where exhibited.

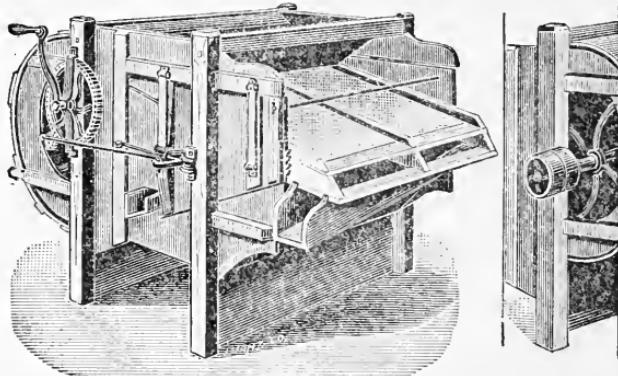

FARM FAN.

Made in three sizes. Capacity from 60 to 100 bushels per hour.

SINGLE WAREHOUSE FAN
Showing Section of Reverse Side.

Three sizes of Single Mills, and three sizes of Double Mills.

Capacity from 150 to 600 bushels per hour.

These justly Celebrated Mills are used in nearly every corner of the civilized world. Even to Tarsus, the birth-place of Saul, one of them was sent Dec., 1881. Hundreds of them go every year to Australia, New Zealand, Great Britain, South America, Mexico and Asia, besides thousands of them to all parts of the United States and the territories. The large foreign demand, aside from their popularity at home, would be sufficient guarantee as to the superiority of these mills. They clean and grade all kinds of Grain and Seeds, Rice, Peas, Beans, &c., taking Smut, Cockle, and other foul matter out of grain; separate Oats from Wheat or Barley; are excellent Chaffers, and in every respect meet the requirements of the Farmer, Grain Dealer, Seedmen, Distillers, and others needing mills.
It pays to buy the best.

[This is the firm that makes the "Peerless" Corn Shelter and Two-Section Cast Iron Field Rollers. Their goods are always first-class.—Editor.]

No More Chills! No More Ague! No More Fever!

An Appeal to the Sufferer.

Why do you go through life more dead than alive, when you can be relieved or cured by applying at once to the celebrated Specialist,

DR. PRIOR, WATER DOCTOR,

Late of New York City, who has had eleven years experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases. There are few men and women but that suffer from some chronic trouble or weakness; those of the female being more abundant and distressing. In either sex these can be relieved or cured. I have devoted years to this branch of the analysis of the water or urine.

Old Sores and Ulcerations of the Body or Throat, Lame and Weak Back, Weak or Sore Chest, Catarrh, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Heart, Bladder, Spleen, Stomach, Bowels, Retention of Immoderate Flow of Urine, Serofulness, Sterility, Loss of Strength in the Organs of Generation, Seminal Weakness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Piles, Diseases and Weaknesses peculiar to the Female in all their many forms, such as Dragging Pains in the Sides, across the Loins and Back, Wasting and Constant Constipation. Distress in the Head which often attends Female Weaknesses—these diseases, most of them, can be relieved and cured; and that dread scourge THE AGUE, which brings weakness and misery to so many, is forced to give way quickly to the medicines I use for such cases, and there is not an atom of Sulphate Quinine in my celebrated and world renowned AGUE SPECIFIC.

Hundreds in this and adjoining States could testify as to the relief or cures effected by my medicines, they have doctored for years without experiencing any relief from their troubles. If you are suffering from any of the above complaints or any disease come at once and see me, and bring a sample of Urine or Water.

CONSULTATIONS FREE.

I occupy the room used by the late renowned Dr. Goeritz, Water Doctor. My medicines are the same as used by him, and I Treat all Cases by a Thorough and Scientific Analysis of the Urine or Water.

11, 13 & 15 East Main Street, Opposite Court House, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

It is the aim of this College to thoroughly fit young men and women, by a vigorous course of mental drill and practical instruction, for the duties of active life.

BOOK-KEEPING.

Book-keeping is taught as a real living record of actual transactions by a practical book-keeper.

The students are required to regard themselves as actually taking part in the various kinds of business represented, and therefore as personally interested in book-keeping as applied in its various forms to Wholesale and Retail Merchandising, Jobbing and Importing, Commission, Forwarding Agency, Banking, Brokerage and Exchange Business.

ACTUAL BUSINESS.

In this part of the Course the student fills minor and important positions in our regular Commission House, Jobbing House, Transportation Office, Wholesale Department and College Bank. He orders and fills orders, buys and sells according to the daily market and stock reports; thus performing a volume of business with a degree of reality that would astonish many of our most successful business men.

WHEN TO COMMENCE.

As each student receives special attention, and as there are no term divisions, pupils may enter at any time and advance as rapidly as their application and ability will allow. If you are ready, now is the time to commence.

ANDREWS, IND.

This town was formerly known as Antioch, but the name was changed about three years ago, when the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Ry Co., made this point the terminus of one division, and erected extensive repair shops and round houses at an expense of $300,000. It is in Dallis township, Huntington county, 6 miles southwest of Huntington, the county seat and banking town; 30 miles southwest of Fort Wayne. Before the location of the railroad shops and extensive improvements made by the great Wabash Ry, it was a small village of a few hundred inhabitants, to-day it is a live progressive incorporated town of 2,500 inhabitants, and with the contemplated improvements to be made by the railroad company this coming year, it will double its population in a few years.

The principal manufacturing interest is the large lumber, stave and shingle factory owned by Messrs. J. S. Morris & Co., who have been identified with the interest of the town for the past ten years. They employ 25 hands.

The Andrews Flouring Mill is worthy of special mention, as the oldest mill in this part of the county and the excellent quality of flour made. Capacity 50 barrels per day.

A number of excellent dwellings, two large brick school buildings, average attendance of 500 scholars daily, and excellent business houses have been erected during the past to their advantage to call and inspect the quality of the work, at 18 West Berry Street, Fort Wayne.

A thriving incorporated town of 2000 inhabitants, located at the crossing of the Air Line division of L. S. & M. S. Ry and Eel River division of W. St. & P. Ry, in Wilmington township, DeKalb county, and is twelve miles north-east of Auburn, the seat of Justice.

This town is rapidly increasing in population, and manufacturing interests. The surrounding agricultural district is exceedingly fertile and the principal products raised is grain and comprises its principal exports.

A number of new buildings have lately been erected, and a number more will be constructed this coming season. The town supports a good graded school, three churches, three hotels, one bank, and two weekly newspapers—Review and Record, the last mentioned is published by W. F. Garrison, and is one of the leading journals of the county, with a rapidly increasing subscription list it commends itself to the advertiser as a medium worthy of patronage. A few of the prominent manufacturing interests is a flouring mill, two saw mills, a handle factory, and the usual number of smaller industries. American and Pacific Express, W. U. Telegraph. Wedding and Funeral Decorations a Specialty at the City Green House, 16 E. Washington St., Ft. Wayne.

COLUMBIA CITY, IND.,

Is an important manufacturing and commercial city of 3,000 inhabitants, pleasantly located on Blue River at the crossings of the Eel River division of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific and Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago R'y's; 18 miles northwest of Fort Wayne and 63 northeast of Logansport. The city possesses a well equipped Fire Department, has good county buildings, residences and wide streets; is lighted by gas, and supports ten churches representing all the popular ecclesiastical denominations of the day; two graded schools and one high school. Supports two private banks, three hotels and three weekly newspapers, Commercial Post and Herald, and is surrounded by a very rich and productive agricultural country.

Prominent among its manufacturing interest, is the Eel River Woolen Mills occupying a new substantial brick building erected in 1881 and furnished with all the modern machinery for the making of flannel, yarns and blankets, and is a very important addition to the manufacturing industries of the city, furnishing employment to thirty hands the year round, consuming a little over a hundred thousand pounds of wool. The superior quality of goods manufactured by this firm have already commanded a ready sale in the leading distributing points in the west.

The Columbia City Foundry and Machine Works, was incorporated July 1883, and have been running to full capacity from the first. The operations of this firm extend throughout Whitley and adjoining counties; 15 men are employed in the various departments. This firm make a specialty of hangers, shafting and pulleys and the repairing of engine and boilers, nothing but the best materials and skilled labor are used and work warranted in every instance.

Six saw mills, two drain tile factories, one brewery, two flouring mills—the Columbia City Roller Mills produce 150 barrels of fine flour every day, and is shipped to all points of northern Indiana, and a furniture factory comprises the balance. Its chief exports are grain, lumber, produce and manufactured goods. Adams and Pacific Express, Western Union Telegraph, Telephone Exchange. O H Woodworth Postmaster.

DECATUR, IND.,

The county seat of Adams county, is pleasantly located on the St. Mary's river at the crossing of the Toledo, Cincinnati & St. Louis, the Chicago & Atlantic, and Grand Rapids & Indiana R'ys, 21 miles south of Fort Wayne, 172 miles east of Chicago, and 138 miles north-east of the capital city, contains 2500 inhabitants, a number of good business blocks, substantial county buildings, several churches, two good graded schools, two banks, two newspapers, Democrat and Journal, and two hotels, among the last mentioned is the well-known Burt house, Dick C. Townsand, proprietor, under whose management this house now ranks as one of the best hotels in northern Indiana.

Among the manufacturing industries of the town, are three stave factories, two saw mills, one foundry, and the City Flour Mills, J. S. Hart, proprietor, this mill has a capacity of sixty barrels of flour per day, and has been in operation eight years. The leading brand of their manufacture is "Gold Dust." P. C. Clevenger & Co., manufacturers of staves and headings, have rebuilt and refurnished with the latest improved machinery their large factory that was totally destroyed by fire last fall, and are now running full capacity, employing fifty hands and turning out millions of staves annually.

Surrounded as it is with a fertile and productive county, combined with its local industries makes Decatur a desirable commercial point. The principal exports are lumber, staves, grain, produce and live stock. American and United States Express. W. U. Telegraph Co. Benj. W. Sholty, Postmaster.

GOSHEN, IND.,

Is a pleasantly situated city of 6000 inhabitants, on the Elkhart river, the county seat of Elkhart county, 64 miles north-east of Fort Wayne, and 160 miles north of Indianapolis. Surrounded by an exceedingly rich and productive agricultural district. Located at the crossing of the Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan and Air Line division of Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'ys. It possesses the best of transportation facilities to any point, excellent water power is furnished by the Elkhart river, and with a population of live, go-ahead, enterprising men, who have been quick to appreciate the advantages of natures gift and have utelized it until Goshen to-day possesses more manufacturing establishments and ships more manufactured materials, than any other town of its size in the State, and yet the industries of this town are still in their infancy, for every year signals the reconstruction and enlargement of the old and the introduction and operation of many new establishments.

The mercantile interests are as progressive and prosperous as the manufacturing. Goshen is the centre of trade for miles around through the richly developed farming region that is second to none in the State. The Elkhart river furnishes the motive power to operate a number of manufacturing establishments, prominent among which is the Goshen Sash & Door Co., an old established institution, doing an entensive business throughout the surrounding counties. The Goshen Milling Co., manufactures 400 barrels of roller process flour per day and it is of such a superior quality that the demand always exceeds the production. these with four furniture factories, linseed oil mill, one woolen mill, one rag carpet factory, stave factory, one wringer factory, one school furniture factory, two saw mills, one foundry, lath factory, one planing mill, several pump factories comprises the balance of the manufacturing interests. The county building are excellent, a fine opera house, a number of handsome business blocks, eleven churches and four school edifices represents the public buildings.

Goshen is lighted by gas, has excellent water works, a good fire company and supports three hotels, prominently

★ OVAL CHURN ★

The Best, Cheapest, Simplest and Most Durable,

And PERFECTLY FINISHED CHURN
IN THE MARKET.

Among the advantages to be derived from using this CHURN may be mentioned the following:

1st.—It is without gearing, and therefore noiseless in operation. 2d.—It churns easier and quicker than any other. 3d.—It is lighter, more convenient and easier to clean. 4th.—The irons being galvanized cannot rust, and owing to their peculiar construction, LEAKAGE, which is the most objectional feature to most churns, is positively and entirely obviated. 5th.—It will make butter of a quality equal in every respect to that made by the old fashioned dash or any other churn. 6th.—Every churn is filled and finished in the best possible manner, the finest quality of COACH VARNISH only being used. 7th.—The price of our "OVAL" is lower than any other strictly first-class churn.

The demand for this favorite churn has far exceeded our expectations, and sales are rapidly increasing yearly, conclusively demonstrating that our claims of superiority are well founded and acknowledged by the users. The OVAL has proved its superiority over any other churn manufactured in America, regardless of cost of manufacture, or prices at which they are sold.

Produces MORE BUTTER of Unsurpassed Quality from same Quantity of Cream in LESS TIME than any other Churn.

Greater Capacity!

For all Description of Work than any Manufactured.

This Wringer

Is regulated by a Pressure
Bar, conveniently located which is easily and instantly adjusted by one motion of the foot, avoiding the slow process of tightening or loosening one or more thumb-screws, as in the old style. The Spring being very long, enables the user to run pieces through varying greatly in thickness with the utmost ease, without incurring the liability to breakage, incident to doing the same work where the old style of cross-bars are used. The side Uprights are independent of each other, adjusting themselves so perfectly to the work passing through them, that from an inch to an inch and a half in thickness can be run through one end and the finest fabric through the other at the same time, wringing both equally. In fact, washing including the greatest variety of articles can be finished in the most satisfactory manner without changing the pressure-bar, and with one-fourth the labor required on old styles. HARTFORD CITY, IND.

This thriving little city was first settled in 1839, and is now the county seat of Blackford county, located at the crossing of the Ft. W., C. & L., and P., C. & St. L. R'ys, 47 miles south of Ft. Wayne, and 72 miles north-east of Indianapolis. The surrounding country is fertile, and is being rapidly brought under a thorough state of cultivation. The town is not encumbered by any debt, and contains 2000 inhabitants, three churches, Methodist, Presbyterian and Lutheran, a good graded school. The VanCleve block is the finest in the city, and the opera house will seat 700, furnished with good scenic effects and plenty of stage room, three hotels, one bank, —the Citizens, two weekly newspapers, the News and Telegram, are supported.

Its manufacturing interests are yet in their infancy, among the most extensive are two saw mills, hub and spoke factory, planing mill, and the Hartford City Steam Flouring Mill of C. R. Cooley & Son, is the oldest mill in the county, having been first put into operation in 1858, burnt out October, 1869, and rebuilt the following May, and has been steadily running ever since, the motive power is furnished by a 125 horse power engine of the celebrated Commer make, and is the finest in the county. Excavations have been made for the foundation of a large business block on the south east corner of the public square, and will be erected this coming season, the rooms, three in all, will be occupied by the Citizens Bank, Hughes & Smith and C. R. Cooley & Son. Turner & Gray, tonsorial artists, will fit up a commodious apartment in the basement, with all the modern conveniences.

Grain, live stock, lumber, staves and spokes are the principal exports. American and United States Express. W. U. Telegraph Co. John M. Ruckman, Postmaster.

HUNTINGTON, IND.,

The county seat of Huntington county is an important, go ahead, commercial and manufacturing city of 6000 inhabitants, located on the Wabash river, and main line of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific and Chicago & Atlantic R'y's. the last mentioned road have erected large repair shops and round houses at this point, making it the division terminus between Chicago & Marion, Ohio. It is 142 miles east of Chicago, on the C & A R'y, 118 miles south-east of Toledo, 105 miles north-east of Indianapolis, 318 miles east of St. Louis, and 24 miles west of Fort Wayne, on the Wabash Ry.

This place was first settled in 1833, by Gen. John Tipton, and was then at that time one of the principal camping grounds of the Wabash Valley. Huntington is one of the most attractive and progressive towns in northern Indiana, and has increased in population and wealth rapidly in the last few years, owing to the building of the Chicago & Atlantic R'y and the introduction of new manufacturing enterprises, among the last mentioned industries is the Eagle Foundry and Machine Works, on the corner of Washington and Cherry streets, and is now operated by Mr. E. K. Clayton, formerly foreman for 14 years of the Lake Erie & Western Railway shops at Lima, Ohio, and who has had a life long experience in this business. The works are the most extensive in the city, furnishing employment to 25 men when running full capacity; they make steam engines, boilers, iron fronts, castings of every description, pay special attention to forging and general repair work.

Mr. C. Nietert, manufacturer and dealer in fine cigars, employs four to five hands, and his goods are well known to the trade.

Slack & Ayres, manufacturers and dealers in lumber, lath and shingles, have a very large establishment, working twenty hands. They make a specialty of interior wood decorations and house furnishing materials.

Jacob Speaker, manufactures a very superior article of Ginger ale and carbonated beverages for the city trade.

The Huntington Foundry and Machine Work under the management of Dorn & Gemmer, is now running to its full capacity, working 15 hands. This firm manufactures the celebrated "Huntington Plow."

Mr. Geo. Herrberg, prop of the "Star Bottling Works," is making arrangements to erect a more extensive building this coming season to accommodate his fast increasing business.

Mr. W. I. Campbell is one of the oldest manufacturees and wholesale dealers in cigars in the city. Among the many popular brands of cigars manufactured by Mr. C, is the "Sweepstake" and is said to be, by competent judges, the best 10c cigar in the market.

A large number of neat, cozy dwellings and substantial business houses have been erected last season; among the latter is the New Windsor Hotel, owned and operated by Mr. M. W. Milligan. This hotel is the finest building in the city, and is furnished with all the modern conveniences.

The town is governed by a Mayor and Common Council, is lighted by gas and has good water works, Opera House, Fire Department, two graded schools, several very handsome churches and excellent city and county buildings, three hotels, two banks and four newspapers,—two dailies and two weeklies. In addition to manufacturing interest already enumerated, it has six saw mills, a potash factory, three planing mills, one pump factory, four flouring mills, two furniture factories, handle factory, cooper shop, a bent wood and spoke factory, wooden stirrup factory and several large grain elevators. Pacific and United States Express, Telephone Exchange, Western Union Telegraph. Alex. W. DeLong, Postmaster.

LAGRANGE, IND.,

Incorporated town of 2000 inhabitants, pleasantly located on the Grand Rapids & Indiana R'y, and is the seat of justice of the county of same name. It is 46 miles northwest of Fort Wayne, and 181 miles northwest of Indianapolis. LaGrange has made great progress in her manufacturing interests, and among the most prominent is a heading factory, two saw mills, flour mill, planing mill, butter tub factory, and pump factory, with all the minor industries well represented and doing a prosperous business in their respective departments. It also supports three weekly newspapers, four churches, graded and high school, and two banks. A recent fire destroyed several old structures on the southeast corner of the square that will be built up with handsome business buildings this coming season. This with other contemplated improvements, will make LaGrange one of the most attractive towns of its size in northern Indiana. Principal exports grain, live stock, lumber and produce. Is a progressive incorporated town of 600 inhabitants, pleasantly located in Plain township, Kosciusko county, six miles north of Warsaw the county seat and banking town. The surrounding country is the best developed and most fertile of northern Indiana, and a large amount of the principal product, grain, finds its way into the market through the two large elevators located here. The business interests of the town are in a very prosperous condition.

Among the principal manufacturing interests, is the extensive carriage and wagon works of Armington & Sons, that have been lately put into operation and are now doing a very satisfactory trade in the manufacture of fine buggies and carriages. Goods of their manufacture are of an unexceptional quality and in great demand.

B R Banta has established a furniture factory and planing mill, and is making a specialty of the manufacture of fine furniture of a better quality than is usually sold.

PORLAND, - IND.

PORTLAND, IND.,

Is located at the crossing of the Grand Rapids & Indiana and Lake Erie & Western Rys, 110 miles northeast of Indianapolis, and 49 miles south of Fort Wayne. It is one of the most substantially constructed towns in the the State, the majority of the business blocks are built of stone or brick with plate glass fronts, and furnished with all the latest improvements, it also has inany handsome residences and good public buildings. A new opera house, seating 1400, and a number of new buildings are under construction and will be completed this season. It has much private wealth and the citizens try to excel in the improvement of their property and business.

Portland is a progressive manufacturing town, its location affords excellent transportation facilities and offers special inducements to manufacturers seeking a location. Among its mills, factories, etc, it has two flour mills, the Centennial and Monitor, both do a good business and make an excellent quality of flour; two stave and heading factories; two saw mills; one furniture factory; one foundry; one spoke and handle factory; one planing mill and carriage top attachment manufacturing company, the latter is a new enterprise and is already doing an extensive business.

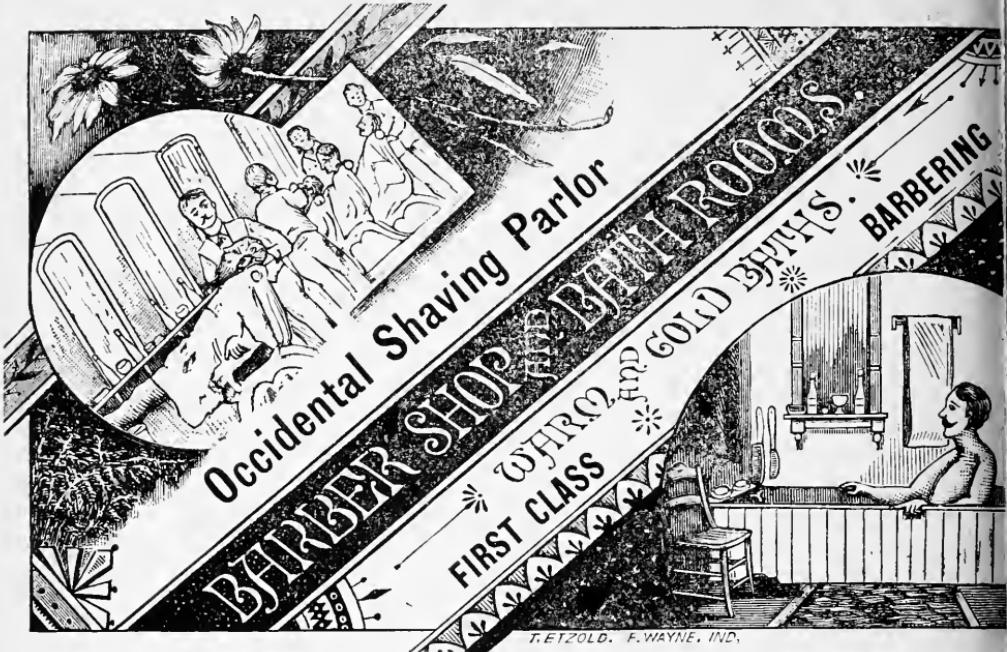

It supports several churches; two banks, the Citizens and Peoples, the former was organized 1875, and is one of the solid institutions of the city, J. B. Jaqua, the cashier, has long been identified with the interests of the town; two hotels, the Merchant and the New Hawkins, the latter is centrally located on Main street and is one of the best appointed houses in the State; two weekly newspapers, The Portland Sun and Commercial.

Portland is situated in the midst of a very fertile agricultural district and its trade extends for a radius of twenty miles. Messrs. Kirchbaum & Silvernale, the leading dry goods merchants, have just completed the remodeling of their mammoth establishment, located on the corner of Main and Meridian streets, the store proper occupies three floors, furnished with all the modern improvements for the comfort of their many patrons, and pleasing exhibition of the largest stock of retail dry goods in northern Indiana. The citizens of Portland may well be proud of this model of metropolitan neatness and elegance.

Grain, live stock, lumber and produce are the principal exports. Telephone Exchange. Western Union Telegraph. U. S. Express. Nimrod Headington, Postmaster.

Wabash Street, South of Canal,

WABASH, IND.

WABASH, IND.,

Is a pleasantly situated incorporated commercial and manufacturing town of 5,000 inhabitants, on the north bank of the Wabash River; county seat of Wabash county, 90 miles northeast of Indianapolis, on the main line of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific, and Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan, Railroads.

This thriving town was laid off in the year of 1834 by Col. H. Hanna and David Burr. The resident portion of the city is mainly on an elevation of 40 to 50 feet, overlooking one of the most beautiful and fertile agricultural valleys in the State. The homes of the citizens of Wabash are far famed for their uniformity of modern architecture and neat surroundings. The Court House is a splendid stone structure, erected on the highest elevation inside the corporation limits, from the dome of which shines forth the electric light by night, that can be seen for miles around and the town clock chronicles the fleeting hours of time.

Wabash City possesses many advantages as a manufacturing point, and the success of such establishments, surrounded as it is with a rich agricultural district, gives it prestige as a good business town.

One of the representative manufacturing establishments is the Wabash School Furniture Co., who have in the last ten years rapidly increased their facilities and reputation for the manufacturing of school, office and church furniture. They are doing a prosperous and satisfactory business, furnishing employment to seventy-five hands the year around. A full page illustration of their large establishment can be found on page 316, showing the extensive factories and lumber yards.

WARSAW, IND.,

A prosperous commercial and manufacturing town, of 3500 inhabitants, pleasantly located on the line of the P., Ft. W. & C., and C., W. & M. Rys, the county seat of Kosciusko county. The town is within sight of the Tippecanoe river, surrounded by a very rich agricultural country. A large number of pleasure seekers visit this city every year, the chief feature of attraction in that respect being three beautiful lakes, known as Pike, Eagle and Center Lakes. The new court house, costing $200,000, is one of the finest structures of the kind in northern Indiana. Many substantial business blocks have been erected in the last few years. The town supports several excellent schools, a public library, five churches, three hotels, two banks, one daily and two weekly newspapers.

Among the manufacturing interests is the large foundry and machine works of Mr. C. Smith, planing mill, saw mill, two flour mills, and bent wood factory. American and Adams Express. Western Union Telegraph. John N. Runyan, Postmaster.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Sept. 13, 1882.

L. Lum Smith, Esq.: "Our windows are very much admired. One good deacon of another church, who contributed to our building fund, took us severely to task for being so extravagant. He thought 'a poor struggling Mission Church might get along without Stained Glass Windows.' When we told him it was only a substitute for Stained Glass, and stated the cost, he offered an apology, and commended our good judgment."

REV. E. A. HOFFMAN.

ZIONSVILLE, IND., April 7, 1881.

"Enclosed find $10.05 in payment of accompanying order. We are much pleased with the I. S. G. applied to our transoms and windows two years ago. It has lost none of its brilliancy or beauty of the various colors."

L. W. COTTON.

ASHTABULA, OHIO, April 12, 1881.

"We are more than pleased with the Imitation Stained Glass, and I don't know but Mrs. Blythe will have the whole house decorated before she stops." J. S. BLYTHE.

From the Phila. (Pa.) Messenger, May 12, 1879.

"In almost every house there is at least one window, which contains a disagreeable outlook, or that needs to be screened or beautified by a modified light, and people will be glad to find in the ARTIFICIAL STAINED GLASS something to relieve them from the inevitable and awkward curtain."

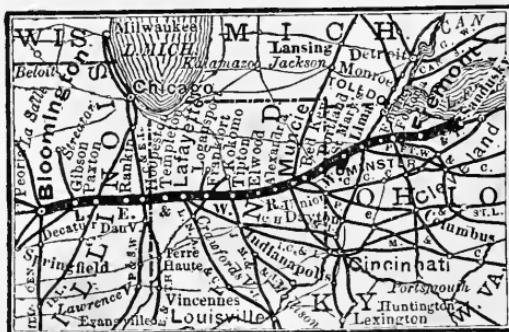

Send for 10, 25 or 50 Cents worth of the Material.
